Re: Introducing our new SENDCo and Inclusion Leader

Dear Parents and Carers,

Following the update we shared with you in February, I am delighted to introduce Mrs Jenny Taylor as our new SENDCo and Inclusion Leader, joining our senior leadership team after Easter.

Mrs Taylor brings a wealth of experience from both mainstream and specialist settings and has a strong commitment to strengthening inclusion. Her background and experience place her exceptionally well to lead SEND and inclusion at All Saints as we continue to develop our provision across both school sites and prepare for our future enhanced resource bases.

As previously shared:

- Miss Carbonell remains with us at All Saints and will move into her new role as Assistant Headteacher for Early Years and Key Stage One, and will also continue to lead teaching in the Year 2 class.
- She will also lead phonics, reading, writing and the English curriculum across the school.
- Both leaders share a deep commitment to inclusion, high expectations and ensuring every child receives the support they need.

During the summer term, Mrs Taylor and Miss Carbonell will work closely together to ensure:

- A smooth handover of SEND and inclusion leadership
- Clear communication with families
- Continued high-quality provision for pupils with SEND
- Consistent support for staff across the school

This partnership will help us maintain the strong culture of inclusion that is central to our school vision and reflects our belief that with the right nurture and environment, every child can grow, flourish and achieve.

If you have any questions about your child's needs or their support in school, please speak to your child's class teacher in the first instance. They are always the best starting point for day-to-day queries. Mrs Taylor will also be available to meet with families once she begins her role after Easter.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

K. O'Grady
